Legend:

- A. PW Camp No 7302/11.
- B. Railroad line to Gorki.
- C. Railroad line to Ryazan.
- D. Perovo Railroad Station.
- E. Arterial road to Ryazan.
- F. Area with storage sheds.
- G. Two apartment houses under construction.
- H. Railroad line encircling Moscow.
- J. Plant No 43.
  - 1. Bomb manufacturing shop. The workshop was equipped with three coke burning smelting furnaces, two of which were in operation; and two electric smelting furnaces with one operating. Furthermore this building housed the molding shop, the core-making shop, and a grinding shop. Transportation was facilitated by four traveling cranes and one conveyor belt for bombs. Bombs were cast in the workshop, and cog wheels, bevel gears and machine tool parts were produced on request.
  - 2. Lumber yard for the carpentry shop.
  - 3. Workshop and foundations for the construction of a new workshop.
  - 4. Electrical shop.
  - 5. Heating plant, which was reportedly the only new building in the plant. According to one source, this shop was equipped with four horizontal boilers. The old boiler house was used as storage building and workshop.
  - 6. Machine shop, off limits to PW's and equipped with lathes. One source observed the turning of cog wheels and machine parts there.
  - 7. Machine shop, store rooms, and kitchen.
  - 8. Forge, which had 30 pneumatic hammers, 10 to 15 coke-burning annealing furnaces and automatic screw and rivet cutting lathes.
  - 9. Foundry. Information on this installation is not very clear. Three sources mentioned the installation without giving any data. One source reported that high-pressure boilers were produced there and that an extension of the building was under construction.
  - 10. Storage shed.
  - 11. Storage shed.
  - 12. Water tower.
  - 13. Administration building and main guard house.
